

Albuquerque

Weekly

Citizen.

OL. ME. 6.

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, SATURDAY MARCH 21, 1896.

NUMBER 17.

Curious Storms!

THE DUPONT CASE.

The Populists will Vote Against Giving Him a Seat.

Washington, March 20.—The desire felt to advance the Cuban question to a finality was shown by the abandonment of the usual routine, suspension of reading the journal in the senate, and immediately taking up the Cuban resolutions. Having secured the right of way Senator Sherman yielded temporarily to Senator Grimes, who, to state his views on the claim of India.

The statement had more than a passing interest, as it is said, the populist votes in the senate are regarded as decisive in the contest, and this was the first expression from a populist senator.

Senator Allen contended that import was not entitled to a seat, without a certificate of credentials from the executive of the state, and when this was lacking, as in this case, the courts of the state could compel the issuance of credentials by the governor.

Senators Mitchell and Chandler called attention to the fact that senators voted on the chamber who did not hold credentials from the governor. Senator Mitchell sarcastically added that this disclosed Senator Allen as the wised man in the senate.

Senator Allen vigorously maintained his position.

INDIAN TRADE.

Washington, March 20.—The hearings before the house committee on Indian affairs, regarding the measures recently enacted by the Dawes Indian territory commission, concluded today. Captain McKeown and ex-Senator Dawes made the final arguments.

DISTRICT COURT.

Cases Set for Trial During Next Week.

Court, although in session, did not recess this morning, except to set down the following causes to be heard during the week beginning Monday, March 23, when the criminal docket will be called for pleas to be entered. Sealed vs. Rice, intervening petition of W. C. Chapman.

Tuesday, 24th—Early Times Distillery vs. James Zeiger, et al., chancery.

Wednesday, 25th—Times vs. Joseph Barnett, et al., chancery.

Thursday, 26th—No. 3752, Strickler vs. Purce, No. 149, Armito vs. Armito, et al., corpus.

Friday, 27th—Civil cases set for trial Wallace Douglass vs. Chas. W. Lewis, et al., covenant.

Francisco, March 20.—The British Columbia, from Valdez for Portland, Oregon, is ashore near Ocean Park, Oregon. Two men are dead, and the remainder of the crew are saved.

STATEHOOD FOR ARIZONA?

Her Admission Agreed upon by the Committee.

Washington, March 20.—The senate voted on territories agreed to report by the end of the present term, as may be possible.

LAW OF THE SITE.

Silver City, March 19.—King and Sherman each got half of the delegation, and go to Albuquerque. They are the best of friends and will ask for national delegates with regard to the steps.

Morley pointed out the importance of the expedition decided by the government, saying it was a derogation of the pledge of Britain that she would not assume a mandate over Egypt, but was likely to withdraw from that country some of its rights and blessings of a British administration of its affairs.

WESTERN RESERVES.

Report of His Resignation is Officially Contradicted.

March 20.—It is officially announced that Gen. Weyler has telegraphed home government that he is satisfied with the course of military operations in Cuba, and has no motive to remain.

Kansas City Stock Market, Kansas City, March 20.—Cattle receipts, 14,400 grades steady, slow.

Steers, $2.80-$3.00; Texas cows, $2.50; beef steers, $2.20-$2.25; cow feeders, $2.50-$3.00; native cows, $3.40; bulls, $2.40-$2.75.

Receipts, $1,000. Market steady, 14,800-$2.25; muttons, $2.50-$4.00.

Chicago Stock Market.

March 20.—Cattle receipts, 14,000 grades steady, slow.

Steers, $2.50-$3.00; Texas cows, $2.25; beef steers, $2.00-$2.25; cow feeders, $2.50-$3.00; native cows, $3.40; bulls, $2.40-$2.75.

Receipts, $1,000. Market steady, 14,800-$2.25; muttons, $2.50-$4.00.

Monte Carlo.

March 20.—The Prince of Wales has renewed his concession to the for 50 years, on condition that his tax be increased from $300,000 to $600,000.

Monte Carlo, March 20.—The Princess with Admit Women.

Pittsburgh, Penn., March 20.—The Pennsylvania Methodist Episcopal church this afternoon voted to admit women by lay delegates to the general church, by 152 to 52.

Hurricane in West Virginia.

Winton, W. Va., March 20.—A Hurricane over Harts Creek valley, miles south of here, last night, winds were blown down, and injuries were吹倒。

Money Market.

March 20.—Money on call, $1,000 per cent.; prime money paper, 6.66 per cent.

J. A. Grunfeld, postmaster, remitted from Santa Fe at noon.

FAVOR RECIPROCITY!

Manufacturing Interests of the Country Demand It.

Bill to Admit Arizona Favorably Reported in the Senate.

Another Large Class of Public Offices to Go Under Civil Service Rules.

BATARY IS CENSURED.

Washington, March 20.—A very general response is being made by the commercial and manufacturing interests of the country to the circular letters addressed to them by the ways and means subcommittee on reciprocity and commercial treaties, inviting expressions of opinion as to the advisability of endeavoring to renew reciprocity agreements with foreign countries under the terms of the McKinley tariff act.

There is now considerable popular opposition to the bill introduced by Senator Batary, which would have imposed a duty of 10 per cent. on imports of silver, copper, and lead, and 5 per cent. on iron, steel, and tin, being made of foreign origin.

That was the condition of the working people?

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'

"Well, we were standing on the street and saw some men going by with coats under their arms. Mr. Farni told me to ask where the men were going and we were told they were going to a cock fight, out of curiosity we went too, and there we saw every person had ten, fifteen or twenty dollars to bet on the fight. That night we went into a saloon and the bartender said, 'What's the condition of the working people?'